SUMMIT STRATEGIES GROUP EXPANDS EMPLOYEE OWNERSHIP

St. Louis, Missouri – On January 4, 2016, St. Louis-based investment consulting firm, Summit Strategies Group, significantly increased its group of active employee owners from 7 to a total of 27 shareholders. The firm celebrated its 20th anniversary in 2015, and has been 100% employee-owned since its 1995 inception. Summit's President, Steve Holmes, is pleased to see this expansion take place. "This is another huge milestone for Summit and its future. This next step in the firm's evolution strongly re-conveys our 20-year commitment to independence, focus, and value-added partnership with our clients and one another. As the list of focused, independent, entrepreneurial consulting firms gets shorter, we love being able to offer these qualities to those in the marketplace that value them."

Summit's broad new crop of shareholders includes tenured professionals across the firm's organizational chart and at all levels – members of Summit's Consulting group, Manager Research, Market Research, Risk and Asset Modeling, Performance Measurement, and Operations are included. Through broad firm ownership among active employees, Summit strengthens its unique position in the industry to attract and retain the highest caliber of motivated professionals, assuring its clients the long-term stability necessary for successful relationships.
